PRIDE IN PORTERVILLE . . . A SUCCESSFUL PROMOTION

Campaign to clean up and brighten up the Porterville community took on a full head of steam last week when individuals, youth and adult organizations, business firms and city personnel put meaning into theme for the week - "Pride In Porterville," and general chairman of the promotion, City Councilman Jim Hanson, can take a justifiable bow.

Junk, and various kinds of debris, were disposed of in truck-load lots; roadsides were cleaned up, along with railroad rights of way; private property was fixed up, painted up and generally made to look better; several continuing beautification projects were put into motion; and a special unified project on installation of curbs and gutters is yet to be completed.

All-in-all, the week was highly productive from the standpoint of a Porterville "face-lifting," but this sort of project loses its real punch if it is approached on a single shot basis.

We hope that momentum built up will carry on, that residents of the community will make Pride in Porterville a continuing concept, for a clean community, a sharp-looking community just has to be a better community.

Springville Says, "Thank You"

Directors of the Springville-Sierra Rodeo association, representing the Springville chamber of commerce, Springville Lions club, Springville Grange, Springville VFW post, and Springville Farm Bureau Center, express our sincere thanks to the Greater Porterville Merchants committee, to the Porterville chamber of commerce, and to all the people of the Porterville community for their support of our 1970 Springville-Sierra rodeo and its related events.

CORNELL WILL REPRESENT BOARD

BAKERSFIELD - President Albert S. Gould, Clerk Glenn Bultman, and Porterville trustee, E.B. Cornell, have been selected to represent the board of trustees of the Kern Junior College district at the district's June commencement exercises.

Because of this support, we had a record year in all categories - gates admissions, concession stand sales, the coronation ball, the western dance and the rodeo parade.

Our special thanks goes to the business firms and individuals who purchased rodeo program advertising, and to the many Porterville-area people who attended the rodeo.

PERMANENT MEMORIAL TO WAR DEAD IS PLANNED AT PORTERVILLE CEMETERY

PORTERVILLE — A.L. Ferguson, superintendent of Porterville Cemetery district, gained approval of the cemetery board of trustees at a recent meeting, for a permanent memorial to the area's war dead to replace the present practice of decorating individual veterans graves with crosses and flags on Memorial day, and on other patriotic days.

Increasing vandalism and theft, and the increasing numbers of veteran dead in the eight cemeteries in the district were deciding factors in the decision to construct the memorial. Costs in placing the flags and crosses have grown year by year.

Following consultation with veterans' organizations in Porterville which approved of the new memorial plans, they were submitted to the cemetery board.

A small mound, surmounted by a pedestal of either concrete or native granite, will be constructed just east of the district administration building at Porterville cemetery.

This will be landscaped, and Post 20, The American Legion and its Auxiliary, of Porterville, will install an Eternal Flame memorial at the top of the pedestal. There will be flag poles for the national and state flags and Ferguson's eventual plans call for a driveway bordered by flag poles on which families of deceased veterans may fly the burial flags given them by the government at veteran funerals, on appropriate days.

The annual American Legion memorial services will be held at the site of the memorial this year, and it is probable dedication of the new monument site will be held as part of the ceremonies.

Ferguson stated that with the consent of the veterans' organizations which have cooperated in the past in furnishing crosses and flags, these will be dispensed with this year. However, flags will be available to families wishing to place them on the graves of loved ones themselves, on Memorial day or the day before, and can be obtained at Ferguson's office in the Administration building after checking the roster of war dead he maintains there. There will be no charge.

Ferguson hopes to have plans completed so an architect's drawing may be exhibited on Memorial day at the cemetery.

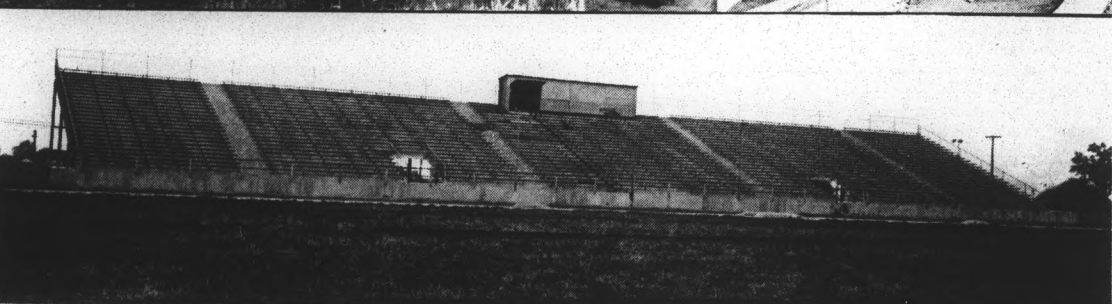

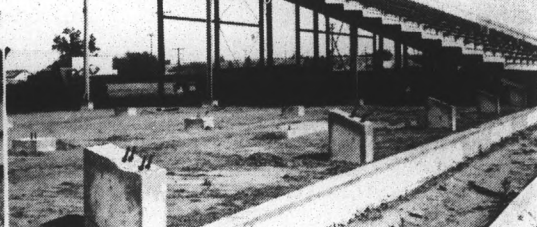

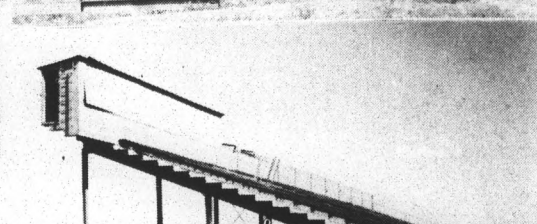

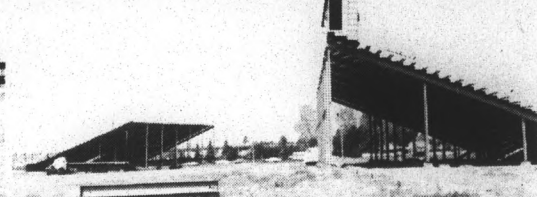

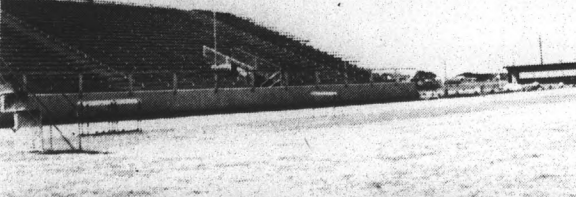

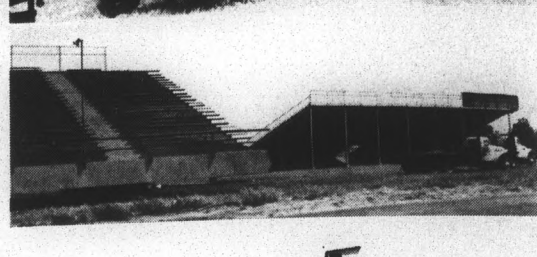

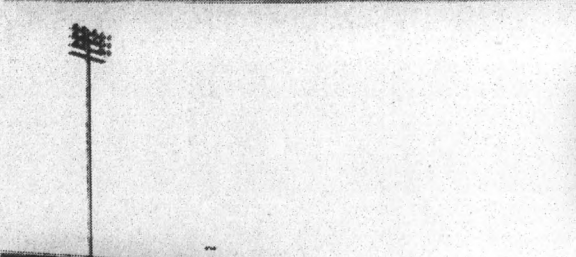

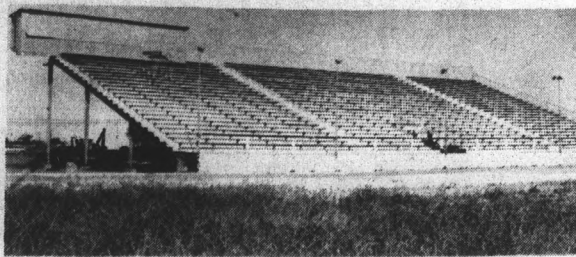

MARK O'KEITH, CLAUDE HOOVER TO BOYS' STATE

PORTERVILLE — Mark O'Keith, of Porterville Union High school and Claude Hoover of Strathmore Union High school, have been chosen to attend the 32nd Boys State workshop in Sacramento beginning June 20 and ending June 27, it is reported by John D. Herrell, Boys State chairman for Porterville Post 20, The American Legion.

Boys State, a long-standing project of the local Legion post, gives instruction in municipal, county and state government by actual participation of the boys in campaigns, elections, and performance in the various offices ranging from county to state level.

The over 800 posts in the Legion's Department of California will send around a thousand boys to the Sacramento Fair grounds where the delegates will be quartered and will conduct their governmental activities which will include visits to the State legislature and to the Governor's office.

California had 2,075,435 licensed fishermen in 1969 - greatest number of any state, and 757,840 hunting licenses - third high among states.

foundation piles already in place. At the new stadium location a turf will be planted soon; a Resolite track is going in; new lights and a new sound system will be installed, and bleacher seats for 1,000 persons placed on the "visiting team" side of the field. Area where the stadium was formerly located will be used for tennis courts. In other major improvement of the college campus, a contract is expected to be let in December, or early in the spring of 1971, for a science building on the northwest corner of the campus to house math, science and data processing, along with student personnel records. This building will also include a general lecture hall and is expected to be ready for use by the fall semester, 1972. (Farm Tribune photos)

SALT TO DEER

is to provide a supply of salt as a conditioning material for deer in the Tulare county area of the Kern river watershed. Salt was dropped on both sides of the Big Kern from Johnsondale on the south to the Sequoia National Park line on the north. Base of operation was the Porterville Municipal airport.

Participating were: John Keck, chairman of the sportsmen's deer committee; George Franklin, of Porterville, fish and game department game manager; George Warden, Jim Stafford, Tony Cannella, R.J. Owen, Doug Owen, and Walker Thomas.

Salt was loaded aboard the plane at the airport, then dropped through a chute in the floor of the plane along mountain ridges. About one ton was carried on each of the four flights.

Faist, highly experienced in mountain flying, also handles High Sierra fish plants from the air, as well as game counts conducted by the fish and game department, and various types of surveys and mapping.

To committee members who made trips to unload the salt out of the plane, it appeared that they were looking up, not down, at the mountains most of the time, but to Faist, this kind of flying is all in an ordinary day's work.

In fact Faist said that much of his time in the air is spent at 300 feet or so - which in the Sierra, keeps the plane moving through canyons and along ridges, well below the high peaks.

Members of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association, with cooperation from the state department of fish and game, have conducted the salt drop each spring for a number of years.

California Grain and Feed Dealers' association.

As a special feature of the 1970 Salute To Agriculture luncheon, a fashion show will be staged during the meal by the Tulare County Cotton Wives Auxiliary.

The luncheon will kickoff Salute To Agriculture in the greater Porterville area, during the week of May 18-23. Special store exhibits will be featured during the week, and the Porterville fair will conclude the Salute on May 21, 22 and 23, with fair theme this year being "Salute To Farming and Freedom."

The entire week is sponsored by the Greater Porterville Merchants' committee of the Porterville chamber of commerce and by directors of the Porterville fair. It is designed to call attention to the importance of agriculture in southeastern Tulare county from an economic standpoint, and to give the "city slickers" a chance to say "Hello Neighbor" to their farmer friends, as people from the city and the farm join forces to produce the annual Porterville fair.

Luncheon tickets are on sale at the Porterville chamber of commerce office.

Over 90 percent of San Bernardino county is desert.

Dry Farm Grain Hurting For Moisture

VISALIA — Dry-farm grain is hurting for moisture and is in poor shape in Tulare county, according to weekly report from the office of Agricultural Commissioner Elvin O. Mankins, however, irrigated small grains are making good growth and heads are filling out.

What appears to be good stands of cotton, field corn, and milo are up in most fields, however, cool weather has slowed growth. Thinning is underway in plum, early peach and nectarine orchards; grapes are showing fair leaf growth, and bunches are forming.

Valencia oranges are now being picked for export and

With the weather acting up the way it has this year we expect to have a snow party on the Fourth of July. This will not only be spectacular but also safe from fire. After the fireworks we can have a snow ball fight and reminisce about the hot summers our town used to have.

We are still selling hot caps for the tomato and pepper plants along with a few replacement plants for the frozen ones. Each time we think it must be safe we find out it's not. However we think another couple of weeks may find things warming up a bit. No promises though.

Lawns should be fed now to get rid of the off-green winter color. A light feeding now and then, some water, at regular intervals, and not mowing too closely will make a nice lawn with few weeds. Almost all the fertilizers are still on sale so now is the time. Besides this we'll loan you a spreader for free that any wife will find easy to push.

Speaking of wives remember Mother's Day is about here and you should look up her address and send a card or something. If you've forgotten where she moved to last you still have time to ask around. Open Sundays on E Street.
